

How much one model varies between runs

Consistent models are good models. $r = -0.93$

